

Christine S. Fahlund, Ph.D., CFP®

Christine S. Fahlund, Ph.D., CFP®, is a senior financial planner and vice president of T. Rowe Price. She joined the company in 1995. With more than 25 years of experience in financial planning, Christine is often quoted in the national financial press, including The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, BusinessWeek, and Kiplinger's, and has appeared on CBS News, CNBC network, NPR radio, and the websites SmartMoney.com and Marketwatch.com, among others.

Christine specializes in retirement accumulation strategies, retirement distribution planning, and estate planning. Christine also assists with the development of new financial planning-related products and services. She is a Series 7 and 66 registered representative. She has been on many non-profit boards and planned giving committees over the years, including most recently serving as Chair of the Board of the Arthritis Foundation, Maryland Chapter. In 2007 she was one of 10 women recognized by The YWCA of the Greater Baltimore Area, Inc., as recipient of a Special Leader Award in Corporate/Business. Christine earned a B.A. in biochemistry from Mount Holyoke College and a doctorate in biochemistry from the University of Massachusetts Five College Ph.D. Program.